

A cost effective re-use of data

Driver Briefing Packages

- DVD, BluRay & Online based training
- Uses HD & 3D VR videos
- Simple narration, overlays & schematics provide user information
- Incorporated & standalone route maps
- Printed Hardcopy Map Books and Brochures
- Minimal cost if produced in addition to Desktop Signal Sighting tools.

Gioconda Ltd have been producing Driver Briefing Packs for many years and as such have covered all types of projects across the UK. Whatever the requirement, whether it is for remodelling, re-signalling, electrification projects, we can acquire the video and build the 3D models required to create the training package needed for TOCs & FOCs.

The material collected or produced for our Route assessment, Signal Sighting or other tools can be re-used and adapted to compile the Driver Briefing Package. This is the most cost effective and efficient process due to the re-use of data and means that material will be available for briefing earlier in the design process. Alternatively, VR and HD video can be produced specifically for the briefing requirements.

The final output benefits from the inclusion of a Voice-Over narrative, Text Overlays, Schematics, PowerPoint slides and Route Maps.

Standard Definition DVD based briefing packages have become the norm, however, new technology allows us to improve the quality immensely:

- BluRay High Definition is ideal for the classroom
- Online or Intranet versions make distribution easier, cheaper and easily updateable.

Mapbooks - Printed & PDF

We always supply an open PDF version of the Mapbook on CD which allows the user to digest the contents at a computer or print additional paper copies.

Hardcopy Mapbooks are becoming increasingly popular as part of the Driver Briefing Pack and as such we have developed a simple, hardwearing format that fits the purpose.

Our wire or ring bound Mapbook is to easy to flip through and ideal for any driver to carry in their workbag.

The PDF version of the map book is suitable for instalation on SmartPhones and Tablets.

Brochure & Leaflets

In addition to our normal Mapbooks, Gioconda can produce a wide variety of other informational handouts either for driver information or public consumption.
